

Heatmap visualization of gene expression data across two sets of samples. The top bar indicates two groups: black (left) and red (right). The heatmap shows a complex pattern of green and red horizontal bands, indicating varying expression levels across genes (rows) and samples (columns). The columns are labeled 0, 24, 48, 72, 96, 120, 144 for both groups.